

... of the ...
his wife were de-10, representing in a confidence of two swindlers
arian extraction, ceeding in mak-
money before it ctims that they
f their money.
yee was even in-
from two local
of the sum menromise that the
l. One stranger ss and another e first one told to entrust his or safe-keeping of $50,000 his d among the two men pre-oney they apt produced by n a trunk and fter they had the trunk was a few one dolotified Saturswindlers had g their escape

trace of them
ar.—Randolph

Holesapple and to their home time with
at Glen Jean,
other cities.

was Secretary.

HUNTERSVILLE CHATTER BOX

We are having quite a bit of wet weather but hope to have a good week for the fair.

Mr. Flynn, our County Superintendent was in this section Monday.

Mr. Harry Cochran and Mr. Harper Barrett were visiting their aunt Mrs. Ida B. McComb here Sunday.

Miss Evelyn Ginger, who has been attending school at Montgomery has returned to her home here.

Miss Evaleigh Harper spent the week end with Miss Gweneviere Jordan at this place.

Miss Reta Moore who is employed at Charleston is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Grey Loury, of Elkins, are visiting the former's father, Mr. J. C. Loury.

Miss Helen Barlow is visiting friends in New York at this writing.

Miss Madeline Barlow who is employed at Marlinton spent Sunday with home folks.

Miss Anna Price Sheets who has been nursing at Huntington has returned to her home here.

Mr. Blake Shrader, Miss Nellie Barlow and others motored to Elkins Sunday.

Red Wing.

Miss Mae Necessary, of Huntington, is the guest of Miss Leta Beard, at Beard.

air. They the way of ness of wh
when dea their path

Monday, editor was of copy, glance out was sittin enjoying l moment la
the road.
fort to wir ing vehicl wheel and

At the Union on liam Hun
and Mrs.
Union, an daughter Kershner, county, w
Rev. H. A dressed in georgette rhinestone lent your friends w gratulation happiness

C

Member
are reques
Mrs. J. 1
August 17

daughter.

Huntersville Chatterbox

We are having some fine weather now and most of the farmers are through their fall work.

The circus here the 10th was grand, everyone present enjoyed themselves first rate.

We are glad that Mr. Wm. Grose is with us again after a long illness. He is getting along fine.

Mrs. Tom Holland, of Weston, is visiting her father here, A. B. McComb.

Mrs. Fred B. Moore has returned to her home here after spending some time in Charleston.

Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Moore, are visiting in Charleston at this time.

Peggy.

is Cim

INIA: SEPTEMBER 8 1927

CHURCH NOTES

nton Presbyterian Church

7 45 p. m. Epworth League
Preaching 11:00 a. m. and 8 00 p m.

HUNTERSVILLE CIRCUIT

Mack Thomason, Pastor

11 00 a m. Mt. Carmel

3 00 p m. Mt. Grove

7 45 p m. Minnehaha

Preaching at Brown's Mountain school house Saturday, September 10 at 8 p. m.

Sunday School attendance at the Methodist Church last Sunday, 238;
at the Presbyterian Church, 137

O.
W. C.
Guy
cers
Pre den
Mrs Gu

Bottom Falls Out Huntersville Road

Thaw Following Cold Snap Reveals That Road Lacked Base

Experimental roads, especially those put down without sufficient base do not pay, it was revealed here last week when the bottom "fell out" of the Huntersville road, following a thaw, which came right on the heels of a severe cold snap.

In an effort to give this county an all-year road, last summer the state road commission spent a considerable amount of money on Route 56, known locally as the Huntersville road. Several thousands of gallons of special road oil was soaked into a base, which was thought to be substantial. Immediately after the work was completed, and the oil had soaked in thoroughly, the road had all the appearance of a first-class macadam highway. Fall came, freezing weather and a few light thaws. Still the road held its own.

With the few exceedingly warm days last week, came the "big thaw", and the road a different story. The schools that did not meet the first score they have to put up the need to put the Among the will make for Buckeye, Ma and Durbin. burg made score.

The school year raised third class, which led to schools of the accomplished cooperation Board of E

Some of are rated aggressive to be in year due short of equip. Among Green that the come to extra equip class is the

Other the require school, who in him. He fect

N ALLED

Officers; suing ade to elect a the Martina meeting Thursday

Kramer's Kramer, the with other tion.

on of club tent, secre-
or three of days or will

Y, JANUARY 23, 1929

King

LA
On the f

A LETTER FROM FLORIDA

From Blake Shrader to his Sister at Hillsboro, W. Va.

Dear Sister:

We left Hillsboro about 10:30, February 28, had a short stop at Huntersville. Found the roads across the Allegheney mountain terrible. We broke a top leaf of front spring on my Ford. That was an old leaf that I had taken off an old truck spring it was already cracked. And ran a nail in one casing just before we got to Roanoke, Va. That is all the trouble we had. Pretty good for a Ford isn't it.

Tell dad the engine never missed a lick and that we only used 5 pints of oil, outside of changing oil at Greensboro, North Carolina. We averaged 25 to 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline. Ask dad if his Jewett will beat that. Gas cost us any where from 16 to 25 cents.

Ask had it his Jewels with him.
Gas cost us any where from 16 to 25 cents.

You sure see some fine roads, nice country on a trip like this. We saw some real orchards through Georgia and South Carolina. But North Carolina was the best looking state to my notion we came through. You don't see any fences in these states.

We only missed our route once and went off about 5 miles out of our way in Augusta, Georgia. We drove 27 hours steady driving all night Wednesday night. Got there about day break and had some trouble getting out. Then got to Macon, Georgia about noon Thursday. We were tired so Thomas and I decided to look around there till the next morning. We left about 8 o'clock and reached Blountstown, Fla, Friday about 8 o'clock.

We went down to the lake yesterday, (Saturday). It is 80 square miles large Thomas and I are going fishing there soon. Steam and motor boats travel on it all the time. I of mod-rushed but at

of the needs of The during stesses atures g and times taken clas d by omes veral and es of mics built and here.
from Bran

ing. We left reached Blountstown, Fla. Friday about 8 o'clock.

We went down to the lake yesterday, (Saturday). It is 50 square miles large. Thomas and I are going fishing there soon. Steam and motor boats travel on it all the time. I want to go over on the Gulf of Mexico soon. The weather here is like summer time up here.

Thomas is going to work in the morning in a filling station and will help a pipe fitter put water and baths in a hotel until I can get a job in the Ford garage. I want to go over my Ford before I start back and see if it needs anything in the way of repairs.

Cousin Pearl and Forest Clark want us to stay here. The people are nice and friendly. If I should stay very long down here I shall want you to send me some of my things but will let you know later.

a few days. I have a cold and sore throat. I think the vaccination is taking on my arm, at least my arm is getting sore. Did yours and Noble's vaccination take and how did you get along motoring to school? Well the Sunday dinner is about ready so I will close. Time is an hour later here. Did you and mother get my letter and card? I'll have to write to my girl too. Write me soon Lovingly your brother, Blake.

"HOLDING OUT" ON GOD—

Ten cents a week, or the price of a soda, is enough for the Lord in the opinion of some of the families in a church in Montclair, New Jersey. There are other families who attend the church, and think it can get along without any financial help from them at all. The church budget, according to a pamphlet recently issued, is $35,000. There are 108

checked

(18)

Munsterville District embraces the greater part of the eastern half of ~~the~~ Pocahontas County. To the north lies Greenbank District, while in the east it is separated from Highland and Bath Counties in Virginia by the summit of the Allegheny Mountain range, on the south lies Little Levels District and on the west Edray District. West of the center and extending northeast from near Munsterville, almost to the northeast boundary are the Browns Mountains. In the southern part is a series of mountains called the Beaver Lick range. It is crowned by several lofty peaks. Just south of the latter is a level plateau or table land of considerable extent. It was covered at one time with a lofty forest of white pine and is known as the white pine plateau. The pine timber was cut and shipped to various markets and much of the plateau is now of second growth and is owned by the government, in Monongahela forest. Knappa Creek and its tributaries drain the entire surface. The latter are Little Back Creek, Southard's Creek, Cochran's Creek and Brown's Creek.

The first settlers in this district were Moses Moore, John Bradshaw and Peter Lightner. (Both of the latter have already been mentioned in former papers sent in.) They were not long permitted to enjoy the solitude of their lonely homes alone for other pioneers came and settled beside them.

The schools of those pioneer days were what were called subscription or select schools and were usually taught

checked

(18)

Hunterville District embraces the greater part of the eastern half of ~~the~~ Pocahontas County. To the north lies Greenbank District, while in the east it is separated from Highland and Bath Counties in Virginia by the summit of the Allegheny Mountain range, on the south lies Little Levels District and on the west Edray District. West of the center and extending northeast from near Hunterville, almost to the northeast boundary are the Browns Mountains. In the southern part is a series of mountains called the Beaver Lick range. It is crowned by several lofty peaks. Just south of the latter is a level plateau or table land of considerable extent. It was covered at one time with a lofty forest of white pine and is known as the white pine plateau. The pine timber was cut and shipped to various markets and much of the plateau is now of second growth and is owned by the government, in Monongahela forest. Knappa Creek and its tributaries drain the entire surface. The latter are Little Back Creek, Southard's Creek, Cochran's Creek and Brown's Creek.

The first settlers in this district were Moses Moore, John Bradshaw and Peter Lightner. (Both of the latter have already been mentioned in former papers sent in.) They were not long permitted to enjoy the solitude of their lonely homes alone for other pioneers came and settled beside them.

The schools of those pioneer days were what were called subscription or select schools and were usually taught for a few months in the year by one of the pioneers, who in his youth had enjoyed superior educational advantages. The text books used were Dilworth's Speller and some ^{few} works from the Bible as a reader.

The first of these schools "kept" in this district was in a deserted log cabin which stood on the banks of Knapps Creek, not far from where Huntersville now stands. It was a five-sided structure, one side of which was taken up with a huge fireplace. The seats were made by splitting small logs in halver and inserting pins for legs in the oval sides. It is not known who the first teacher was; there is no record. Traditions tell us Mary Moore was the first teacher. The Moores were the first to settle on Knapps Creek and were a prominent family. It is not definitely known who preached the first sermon. Tradition again tells us that it was the Apostle of Methodism,—the noted Bishop Asbury. The names of many pioneer Ministers are remembered and recorded by the old residents.

Everywhere in the settlement of the west the frontier preacher was an important factor and scarcely was the roof of the cabins made fast before the Methodist Circuit rider or the Baptist Missionary made his appearance, collected the neighbors, preached a sermon, left an appointment for some time, perhaps a year in the future; then after a friendly farewell he continued his journey to another settlement.

Among those who first visited Pocahontas County were the Reverend ² James Avis, John Miller, Amos Smith, J. T. Kenney,

for a few months in the year by one of the pioneers, who in his youth had enjoyed superior educational advantages. The text books used were Dilworth's Speller and some ^{few} ~~works~~ ^{from} the Bible as a reader.

The first of these schools "kept" in this district was in a deserted log cabin which stood on the banks of Knapps Creek, not far from where Huntersville now stands. It was a five-sided structure, one side of which was taken up with a huge fireplace. The seats were made by splitting small logs in halves and inserting pins for legs in the oval sides. It is not known who the first teacher was; there is no record. Traditions tell us Mary Moore was the first teacher. The Moores were the first to settle on Knapps Creek and were a prominent family. It is not definitely known who preached the first sermon. Tradition again tells us that it was the Apostle of Methodism,—the noted Bishop Asbury. The names of many pioneer Ministers are remembered and recorded by the old residents.

Everywhere in the settlement of the west the frontier preacher was an important factor and scarcely was the roof of the cabins made fast before the Methodist Circuit rider or the Baptist Missionary made his appearance, collected the neighbors, preached a sermon, left an appointment for some time, perhaps a year in the future; then after a friendly farewell he continued his journey to another settlement.

Among those who first visited Pocahontas County were the Reverend ² James Avis, John Miller, Amos Smith, J. T. Kenney,

James Watts, Samuel Ellis, William McDowell, Eliana Knox, James Kerr, William Houston, Harvey Lawyers, W. Fendleton and Jenn Howe.

The first Presbyterian Church at Huntersville, was organized by Rev. Milton D. Dunlap in 1854. Among the first members were Hugh McLaughlin, Sr. James A. Price, George E. Craig. A house of worship was erected the same year on the 12th day of August 1854. William Cannon, Benjamin Herold and James T. Lockridge, on behalf of the Church contracted for erection of a Church for $1,245.00.

The Methodist Episcopal Church (South) of Huntersville was organized in 1866 by Rev. P. S. E. Sixes. Before the division of the Church in 1844 into Northern and southern branches, the Methodists had an organization at this place but the Huntersville Church then belonged to what was known as the Levelton Circuit.

Mount Vernon Church, built in 1850 was the first ever erected on Knapps Creek. For its erection $400 was raised by subscription and the remainder was paid by Andrew W. Moore, Moses Moore and Preston Moore. It was dedicated in June 1852 and the Rev. John McClure became its first pastor. During the war between the states called by some the Civil War, the soldiers made a barracks of the Church and at one time threatened to burn it but were prevailed upon to desist such an act of vandalism and today its stands as monument of the religious zeal and Christian enthusiasm of generations now passed away. Among the first members were Leonard Heron, Jennie Heron,

James Watts, Samuel Ellis, William McDowell, Eliana Knox, James Kerr, William Houston, Harvey Lawyers, W. Pendleton and Joann Howe.

The first Presbyterian Church at Huntersville, was organized by Rev. Mitchell D. Dunlap in 1854. Among the first members were Hugh McLaughlin, Sr. James A. Price, George E. Craig. A house of worship was erected the same year on the 12th day of August 1854. William Gammon, Benjamin Herold and James T. Lockridge, on behalf of the Church contracted for erection of a Church for $1,245.00.

The Methodist Episcopal Church (South) of Huntersville was organized in 1866 by Rev. P. S. E. Sixes. Before the division of the Church in 1844 into Northern and southern branches, the Methodists had an organization at this place but the Huntersville Church then belonged to what was known as the Levelton Circuit.

Mount Vernon Church, built in 1850 was the first ever erected on Knappe Creek. For its erection $400 was raised by subscription and the remainder was paid by Andrew W. Moore, Moses Moore and Preston Moore. It was dedicated in June 1852 and the Rev. John McClure became its first pastor. During the war between the states called by some the Civil War, the soldiers made a barracks of the Church and at one time threatened to burn it but were prevailed upon to desist such an act of vandalism and today its stands as monument of the religious zeal and Christian enthusiasm of generations now passed away. Among the first members were Leonard Heron, Jennie Heron,

George Rider, Harvey Curry, Lary A. Curry, Moses Moore, Isabella Moore, Preston Moore, Andrew Moore, Anna Moore and Elizabeth Lightner. George Rider was the first Class Leader.

Huntersville was the only town in the district at that time but in later years Frost has become a small town. Huntersville was laid out in 1821 and was the County Seat until it was moved to Marlinton after it had become a small town, by the vote of the people.

Huntersville is situated on the left bank of Knappe Creek six miles from its mouth. It is surrounded on all sides by lofty mountains and has, perhaps, more the appearance of an Alpine village than any other town in the State. Its elevation 1900 feet above sea level.

Moses Moore already mentioned as one of the first settlers located on Knappe Creek more than one hundred years ago,--at least one hundred and fifty years ago-- as is attested by records. There was an old Indian trail or Valley Draft as it was once called, by which the Indians traveled when on their missions of blood to the settlements on Jacksons River and in the Shenandoah Valley.

This trail led near by where Moses Moore settled on the land once owned by his grandson Andrew T. Moore. As might have been expected it was not long before he was carried into captivity ^{by the Indians} but made his escape and returned to his mountain home. Twice more before the savages were stayed beyond the Ohio River he was carried a prisoner to their towns on the Scioto River.

George Rider, Harvey Curry, Lary A. Curry, Moses Moore, Isabella Moore, Preston Moore, Andrew Moore, Anna Moore and Elizabeth Lightner. George Rider was the first Class Leader.

Huntersville was the only town in the district at that time but in later years Frost has become a small town. Huntersville was laid out in 1821 and was the County Seat until it was moved to Marlinton after it had become a small town, by the vote of the people.

Huntersville is situated on the left bank of Knappe Creek six miles from its mouth. It is surrounded on all sides by lofty mountains and has, perhaps, more the appearance of an Alpine village than any other town in the State. Its elevation 1900 feet above sea level.

Moses Moore already mentioned as one of the first settlers located on Knappe Creek more than one hundred years ago,--at least one hundred and fifty years ago-- as is attested by records. There was an old Indian trail or Valley Draft as it was once called, by which the Indians traveled when on their missions of blood to the settlements on Jacksons River and in the Shenandoah Valley.

This trail led near by where Moses Moore settled on the land once owned by his grandson Andrew T. Moore. As might have been expected it was not long before he was carried into captivity ^{by the Indians.} but made his escape and returned to his mountain home. Twice more before the savages were stayed beyond the Ohio River he was carried a prisoner to their towns on the Scioto River.

after his return the last time he purchased all the lands lying on Maple Creek up to Mount Vernon Church then standing on the farm of Andrew Harold and still standing on the same farm now owned by Richard Gibson. This tract included several thousand acres and as the records show, Ross Moore gave in mortgage for it "Two steel trams and two pounds sterling worth"

Richard V. Gibson

after he retires the last time he purchased all the lands lying on Elmore Creek up to Mount Vernon Church then standing on the face of Andrew Harold and still standing on the same land now owned by Richard Gibson. This tract included several thousand acres and as the records show, Jesse Moore gave the mortgage for it "Ten steel traps and two pounds sterling money"

Jesse Moore

Charles S. Wiley
 Hunter Lick, West Virginia

P. 1. 1. 1.

Chapter 4 Part 2. Question 5.

TOWNS SETTLED AND OCCUPATIONS ESTABLISHED FROM 1810 TO 1860

The early settlers of Pocahontas did not settle many towns. Huntersville being the only one of any importance. William Sharp Sr. was the first permanent settler at Huntersville, but John Bradshaw was the one who did the most toward making the town one of importance.

For a number of years previous to the organization of the county in 1821, Huntersville had been a public place as merchants and tradesmen from the east would arrange to meet hunters here and barter goods for the products of the hunt. It was suggested by some that Smithville would be a good name for the place, but John Bradshaw insisted upon the name Huntersville as a special compliment to the hunters who came to his home to meet the tradesmen, including John Harness of Staunton, and to who the place owed so much of its development. It was John Bradshaw, too, who gave enough land, from his vast estate to the county as a place to build all the public buildings so that Huntersville could become the county seat when the county was organized in 1821. A site near Edray had been chosen for the county seat, but after Bradshaw's offer was changed.

For many years after it became the county seat it retained its importance as the principal trading center for the entire county. The largest stores were usually there. Many people came each month to the courts and once a year the "Big Muster" of the 127th Virginia Regiment brought out all the men between the ages of 18 and 45 for military practice. During the superior courts and the Regimental Muster quite a number of people from the eastern counties would come here to sell hats, saddles, harness, stone ware, tobacco, thirty cent whiskey, and many other things. Therefore, the little town of Huntersville flourished in a big way. It was no unusual thing for its merchants to realize three to

Pocahontas

Chapter 4 Part a. Question 5.

TOWNS SETTLED AND OCCUPATIONS ESTABLISHED FROM 1810 TO 1860

The early settlers of Pocahontas did not settle many towns. Huntersville being the only one of any importance. William Sharp Sr. was the first permanent settler at Huntersville, but John Bradshaw was the one who did the most toward making the town one of importance.

For a number of years previous to the organization of the county in 1821, Huntersville had been a public place as merchants and tradesmen from the east would arrange to meet hunters here and barter goods for the products of the hunt. It was suggested by some that Smithville would be a good name for the place, but John Bradshaw insisted upon the name Huntersville as a special compliment to the hunters who came to his home to meet the tradesmen, including John Harness of Staunton, and to who the place owed so much of its development. It was John Bradshaw, too, who gave enough land, from his vast estate to the county as a place to build all the public buildings so that Huntersville could become the county seat when the county was organized in 1821. A site near Edray had been chosen for the county seat, but after Bradshaw's offer was changed.

For many years after it became the county seat it retained its importance as the principal trading center for the entire county. The largest stores were usually there. Many people came each month to the courts and once a year the "Big Muster" of the 127th Virginia Regiment brought out all the men between the ages of 18 and 45 for military practice. During the superior courts and the Regimental Muster quite a number of people from the eastern counties would come here to sell hats, saddles, harness, stone ware, tobacco, thirty cent whiskey, and many other things. Therefore, the little town of Huntersville flourished in a big way. It was no unusual thing for its merchants to realize three to four hundred percent on dry goods and groceries during the period 1822 to 1845.

During the winter 1852, almost all of the business, part of the town was destroyed by fire. During the Civil War it was burned by Federal troops, sent from Beverly, to present it being a Confederate depot for military supplies.

After the war it again grew into an important little town. Flourishing stores were operated by Amos Barlow, Lourey and Son, Lourey and Doyle. Improved methods of farming were adopted and the town took on a more pleasing appearance than ever before.

One of the principal hotels was operated by J. Williams, John Sussard, John Holden, Porterfield Wallace, I. C. Carpenter and E. Campbell in succession, but was burned by federal troops during the Civil War.

Salooning was for many years a flourishing business but in 1848 license for salooning was refused by the Court. This of course did away with saloons in the county.

Blacksmithing was also an excellent business as there was much horse shoeing and wagon repairing to be done. Finleys' shop stood near the Cummings Creek road and from three to four hands were employed. Another shop was operated by Jack Tidd., Later by William Milley, a very skilled artisan; and G. W. Ginger in succession. (Though Ginger was not there until after the war)

For many years a thriving business was carried on in the harness and saddle business. First by John Haines who employed four or five hands. After by William Fertig, and later by William Grose and Son.

four hundred percent on dry goods and groceries during the period 1822 to 1845.

During the winter 1852, almost all of the business, part of the town was destroyed by fire. During the Civil War it was burned by Federal troops, sent from Beverly, to present it being a Confederate depot for military supplies.

After the war it again grew into an important little town. Flourishing stores were operated by Amos Barlow, Lourey and Son, Lourey and Doyle. Improved methods of farming were adopted and the town took on a more pleasing appearance than ever before.

One of the principal hotels was operated by J. Williams, John Buzzard, John Holden, Porterfield Wallace, I. C. Carpenter and E. Campbell in succession, but was burned by federal troops during the Civil War.

Salooning was for many years a flourishing business but in 1848 licenses for salooning was refused by the Court. This of course did away with saloons in the county.

Blacksmithing was also an excellent business as there was much horse shoeing and wagon repairing to be done. Finleys' shop stood near the Cummings Creek road and from three to four hands were employed. Another shop was operated by Jack Tidd., Later by William Dilley, a very skilled artisan; and G. W. Ginger in succession. (Though Ginger was not there until after the war)

For many years a thriving business was carried on in the harness and saddle business. First by John Haines who employed four or five hands. After by William Fertig, and later by William Groce and Son.

Tailoring was also a thriving business. Keesere Campbell, John and James Holden employed several men and were kept busy during early fall and winter or when weddings were in prospect. Weddings also gave the saddlers a good trade. It was considered good form for the bride to have a new outfit, horse, saddle and bridle. The groom would not think he had much chance of success if he did not do his courting on a new saddle and bridle made at Huntersville.

Tailoring was also a thriving business. Messere Campbell, John and James Holden employed several men and were kept busy during early fall and winter or when weddings were in prospect. Weddings also gave the saddlers a good trade. It was considered good form for the bride to have a new outfit, horse, saddle and bridle. The groom would not think he had much chance of success if he did not do his courting on a new saddle and bridle made at Huntersville.

Typists needed!

The material you are viewing is of poor viewing quality and needs to be retyped. You could help us by retyping these pictures. We will credit your efforts and upgrade the pics to electronic data. There is so much that can be accomplished if you help us with this project. I may be able to include old newspapers, etc. if you help me.

email me the retyped material at normanalderman@yahoo.com

No. : 3454

Source : Eugene Bu-ner

Original in the possession of :

source

Society

Date : 10/10/1963

Subject :

Hunterville School

No : 3200

Source :

Original in the possession of :

source

Print located in :

albums

file

Date :

Subject :

Photo of unknown woman, taken by N.A. Williams & Son, Huntersville

Society

John F. Yeager

-1-

Rev. - 2

18

checked

Huntersville District embraces the greater part of the eastern half of ~~the~~ Pocahontes County. To the north lies Greenbank District, while in the east it is separated from Highland and Bath Counties in Virginia by the summit of the Allegheny Mountain range, on the south lies Little Levels District and on the west Edray District. West of the center and extending northeast from near Huntersville, almost to the northeast boundary are the Brown Mountains. In the southern part is a series of mountains called the Beaver Lick range. It is crowned by several lofty peaks. Just south of the latter is a level plateau or table land of considerable extent. It was covered at one time with a lofty forest of white pine and is known as the white pine plateau. The pine timber was cut and shipped to various markets and much of the plateau is now of second growth and is owned by the government, in Monongahela forest. Knapps Creek and its tributaries drain the entire surface. The latter are Little Back Creek, Southard's Creek, Cochran's Creek and Brown's Creek.

The first settlers in this district were Moses Moore, John Bradshaw and Peter Lightner. (Both of the latter have already been mentioned in former papers sent in.) They were not long permitted to enjoy the solitude of their lonely homes alone for other pioneers came and settled beside them.

The schools of these pioneer days were what were called subscription or select schools and were usually taught for a few months in the year by one of the pioneers, who in his youth had enjoyed superior educational advantages. The text books used were Dilworth's Speller and some ^{fewer} works from the Bible as a reader.

The first of these schools "kept" in this district was in a deserted log cabin which stood on the banks of Knapps Creek, not far from where Huntersville now stands. It was a five-sided structure, one side of which was taken up with a huge fireplace. The seats were made by splitting small logs in halves and inserting pins for legs in the oval sides. It is not known who the first teacher was; there is no record. Traditions tell us Mary Moore was the first teacher. The Moores were the first to settle on Knapps Creek and were a prominent family. It is not definitely known who ¹preached the first sermon. Tradition again tells us that it was the Apostle of Methodism,—the noted Bishop Asbury. The names of many pioneer Ministers are remembered and recorded by the old residents.

Everywhere in the settlement of the west the frontier preacher was an important factor and scarcely was the roof of the cabins made fast before the Methodist Circuit rider or the Baptist Missionary made his appearance, collected the neighbors, preached a sermon, left an appointment for some time, perhaps a year in the future; then after a friendly farewell he continued his journey to another settlement.

Among those who first visited Pocahontas County were the Reverend ²James Avis, John Miller, Amos Smith, J. W. Kenney, James Watts, Samuel Ellis, William McDowell, Elisha Knox, James Kerr, William Houston, Harvey Lawyers, N. Pendleton and John Howe.

The first Presbyterian Church at Huntersville, was organized by Rev. Mitchell D. Dunlap in 1854. Among the first members were Hugh McLaughlin, Sr. James A. Price, George E. Craig. A house of worship was erected the same year on the 12th day of August 1854. William Gammon, Benjamin Herold and James T. Lockridge, on behalf of the Church contracted for erection of a Church for $1,246.00.

The Methodist Episcopal Church (South) of Huntersville was organized in 1866 by Rev. P. S. E. Sixes. Before the division of the Church in 1844 into Northern and southern branches, the Methodists had an organization at this place but the Huntersville Church then belonged to what was known as the Levelton Circuit.

Mount Vernon Church, built in 1850 was the first ever erected on Knapps Creek. For its erection $400 was raised by subscription and the remainder was paid by Andrew W. Moore, Moses Moore and Preston Moore. It was dedicated in June 1852 and the Rev. John McClure became its first pastor. During the war between the states called by some the Civil War, the soldiers made a barracks of the Church and at one time threatened to burn it but were prevailed upon to desist such an act of vandalism and today it stands as monument of the religious zeal and Christian enthusiasm of generations now passed away.

Among the first members were Leonard Heron, Jennie Heron, George Rider, Harvey Curry, Mary A. Curry, Moses Moore, Isabella Moore, Preston Moore, Andrew Moore, Anna Moore and Elizabeth Lightner. George Rider was the first Class Leader.

Huntersville was the only town in the district at that time but in later years Frost has become a small town. Huntersville was laid out in 1821 and was the County Seat until it was moved to Marlinton after it had become a small town, by the vote of the people.

Huntersville is situated on the left bank of Knapps Creek six miles from its mouth. It is surrounded on all sides by lofty mountains and has, perhaps, more the appearance of an Alpine village than any other town in the State. Its elevation 1900 feet above seal level.

Moses Moore already mentioned as one of the first settlers located on Knapps Creek more than one hundred years ago,--at least one hundred and fifty years ago-- as is attested by records. There was an old Indian trail or Valley Draft as it was once called, by which the Indians traveled when on their missions of blood to the settlements on Jacksons River and in the Shenandoah Valley.

This trail led near by where Moses Moore settled on the land once owned by his grandson Andrew J. Moore. As might have been expected it was not long before he was carried into captivity ^{by Indians} but made his escape and returned to his mountain home. Twice more before the savages were stayed beyond the Ohio River he was carried a prisoner to their towns on the Ohio River.

After his return the last time he purchased all the lands lying on Knappe Creek up to Mount Vernon Church then standing on the farm of Andrew Herold and still standing on the same farm now owned by Richard Gibson. This tract included several thousand acres and as the records show, Moses Moore gave in exchange for it "Two steel traps and two pounds sterling money".

Bella H. Yeager

Greenbrier Independent.

THURSDAY, OCT. 19TH, 1893.

LOCAL MATTERS.

RAILROAD SCHEDULE.—Trains arrive at Ronceverte as follows, Washington time: Eastbound—No. 4, at 5.47, a. m.; No. 14, at 4.03 p. m.; and No. 6, at 10.30 a. m. Westbound—No. 3, at 8.45 a. m.; No. 13, at 11.32 a. m.; No. 1, at 10.35 p. m.; No. 5, at 5.03 p. m. Nos. 5 and 6 do not run on Sunday.

We have had several big frosts this week.

Huntersville, Pocahontas, Items.

There were fine rains fell here Friday, accompanied by high winds Saturday, which blew down a good deal of the corn in the fields.

The party in pursuit of the men who robbed Mr. A. Dilley's house last week, returned Saturday and reported that they overtook four of the robbers near Davis City, in a laural patch. The robbers was ordered to surrender, which they refused to do, and opened fire on their pursuers, to no affect. The fire was returned, and two of the robbers wounded but they all made good their escape.

Mr. Wm. T. Logan and wife, of Randolph county, are visiting relatives and friends near here.

Betsey McLaughlin, who is 88 years old, is on a visit to her old homestead, J. W. Sharp's, near Edray.

Mrs. Geo. Brambrick, who has been of John T. Harpe with an accident, at work on the ra Va. A torpedo where he was at men, inflicting his leg. Although is not thought to

Col. Fox
Camp Kenna, K

To the Adjutant Va., Charl

Sir—I have t
with my resign manding the 2d Guard, to take tober 3rd, 1898
rade. Recogn siderable time of a regiment
administer th and not being

Hunterville.

Miss Maude Lorry is visiting friends and relatives here.

C. M. Jordan and C. M. Grosse came up from Denmar Saturday and spent Sunday at their homes here.

Clarence Moore, of Staunton, Va., is spending some time here with his uncle, W. H. Barlow.

Mrs. Mamie Jordan and Miss Lucile Carey were shopping in Marlinton Friday.

Miss Beulah Moore is visiting her sister, Mrs. G. W. Clark at Marlinton.

Miss Lynette McKeever returned last week from a visit among friends at Buckeye.

G. C. Poling was a business caller in Marlinton Friday.

Miss Anna Lee Ervin is visiting friends in Marlinton this week.

Miss Lena Jordan, of Marlinton, spent Sunday here the guest of her brother, C. M. Jordan.

Rev. Thomas Morgan spent Wednesday and Thursday in Marlinton attending the institute.

Heaven made virtue, man, the appearance.—Voltaire.

Hunterville.

Miss Maude Lorry is visiting friends and relatives here.

C. M. Jordan and C. M. Grosse came up from Denmar Saturday and spent Sunday at their homes here.

Clarence Moore, of Staunton, Va., is spending some time here with his uncle, W. H. Barlow.

Mrs. Mamie Jordan and Miss Lucile Carey were shopping in Marlinton Friday.

Miss Beulah Moore is visiting her sister, Mrs. G. W. Clark at Marlinton.

Miss Lynette McKeever returned last week from a visit among friends at Buckeye.

G. C. Poling was a business caller in Marlinton Friday.

Miss Anna Lee Ervin is visiting friends in Marlinton this week.

Miss Lena Jordan, of Marlinton, spent Sunday here the guest of her brother, C. M. Jordan.

Rev. Thomas Morgan spent Wednesday and Thursday in Marlinton attending the institute.

Heaven made virtue, man, the appearance.—Voltaire.

has device

J. C. Harper, of Huntersville District was down reporting the condition of the roads in that district. He was unceremoniously relegated to the back ground as a superintendent and Hevener Dilley takes his place. We do not know anything of the ability of Dilley but we do know that Harper has made a first class man, looking after the interest of roads in keeping them in repair as far as the limited road money of that district would permit. W. H. Bolton and Harry Taylor superintendents of the Greenbank District were also relegated to the dumping ground as incompetent, and their places filled by wisecracks. More mud holes to fill up.

has devils

J. C. Harper, of Huntersville District was down reporting the condition of the roads in that district. He was unceremoniously relegated to the back ground as a superintendent and Hevener Dilley takes his place. We do not know anything of the ability of Dilley but we do know that Harper has made a first class man, looking after the interest of roads in keeping them in repair as far as the limited road money of that district would permit. W. H. Bolton and Harry Taylor superintendents of the Greenbank District were also relegated to the dumping ground as incompetent, and their places filled by wisecracks. More mud holes to fill up.

Typists needed!

The material you are viewing is of poor viewing quality and needs to be retyped. You could help us by retyping these pictures. We will credit your efforts and upgrade the pics to electronic data. There is so much that can be accomplished if you help us with this project. I may be able to include old newspapers, etc. if you help me.

email me the retyped material at
normanalderman@yahoo.com

HUNTERSVILLE